

LEITH BOULLY, BIOGRAPHY

Leith and her family have an irrigation, dryland farming and grazing property at Dirranbandi in Queensland.

She has been involved in natural resource management (particularly water) at local, State and National levels for about 20 years. Leith is passionate about developing the capacity of individuals and communities to participate effectively in these processes. She served for 2 terms as Chairman of the Community Advisory Committee to the Murray Darling Basin Ministerial Council. She is a founding member of the Wentworth Group of Concerned Scientists and has been appointed as Adjunct Professor with the School of Natural and Rural Systems Management at UQ. She is currently Chairman of the Center for Rural and Regional Innovation, FarmBis Qld and the Lower Balonne Water Resources Ministerial Advisory Council. She is also a board member of Murrumbidgee Irrigation Ltd, the Cotton Research and Development Corporation and the Australian Rural Leadership Foundation. She is a graduate of the Australian Rural Leadership Program, has tertiary qualifications in agriculture and business and is an accredited mediator.